1.2.3 Scaffold Duty

Scaffolds have different size requirements and rated capacities according to their duty:

Light Duty	+
Medium Duty	+
Heavy Duty	+

The configuration and parts used generally determine the duty of a scaffold.

You need to make sure the scaffold you intend to erect will be the correct duty. This means the duty must match the requirements of the job and the types of loads that will be resting on the scaffold while it is erected.

You should check the manufacturer or supplier specifications for the exact rated capacity of the working platforms of a scaffold. Do this during the planning stage, this will make sure the
