Overview

This online workbook is pre-course material only - you are still required to attend a practical session and successfully complete a practical assessment before you will be awarded a nationally recognised statement of attainment.

Take your time and read each section carefully, it might help for you to take notes.

Make sure you answer all of the checkpoint review questions along the way.

The results of this will be sent to your trainer as part of your course assessment.

What you will learn

This course is designed to help you understand all of the elements required to Work in Accordance with an Issued Permit.

SECTION 1

Lesson 1 of 60

1.1. Introduction

This course is based on the unit of competency MSMPER200 Work in Accordance with an Issued Permit.

You will learn about:

- Identifying the scope of the permit.
- Preparing for the permitted work.
- Working in accordance with an issued permit.
- Completing the permit to work.

1.1.1 Identify Regulatory and Workplace Requirements

Prior to any activity being started, you will need to identify, access and make sure you understand your legislative and workplace requirements and procedures.

This will ensure that all work that you complete will comply with the relevant requirements, and follow the appropriate procedures.

You should be familiar with regulatory frameworks and workplace requirements, including:

- Work Health & Safety (WHS) legislation, codes of practice and guidance materials.
- International and Australian standards.
- Licence and certification requirements.
- Environmental protection requirements.
- Permit conditions, types and control systems required.
- Organisational policies and procedures that apply to the tasks and activities.
- Workplace procedures and work instructions.

Your work procedures and instructions may include complex Piping and Instrumentation Diagrams (P&IDs).

Question
01/01

Section 1: Question 1 – Why is it important to make sure you understand your legislative and workplace requirements and procedures prior to starting any activity?

So you can explain it to your co-workers before each task.

To ensure that all work you complete will comply with the relevant requirements and follow the appropriate procedures.

You may be required to train new apprentices.
